Doctrine Updates

Editor's Note: The U.S. Army Combined Arms Center publishes a quarterly Doctrine Newsletter that highlights recent and upcoming changes to doctrine and provides information related to the use of doctrine. It is disseminated via email to the widest audience to maximize the understanding of doctrine. The following is an extract of information from the April 2019 newsletter.

Recently Published Army Doctrine

This article provides the operational and generating force with the most current information on recent publications. Each discussion provides a short synopsis of new Army doctrine publications (ADPs), field manuals (FMs), Army techniques publications (ATPs), and multi-Service publications. These synopses provide readers with new doctrinal changes. The Combined Arms Doctrine Directorate published each publication through the Army Publishing Directorate (APD) since October 2018. Readers can access these and other Army publications at the APD website located at <http://armypubs.army.mil/>.

ARMY DOCTRINE PUBLICATIONS

ADP 3-28, Defense Support of Civil Authorities. ADP 3-28 explains how the Army conducts defense support of civil authorities (DSCA) missions and National Guard civil support missions as part of unified land operations. It helps Army leaders understand how operations in the homeland differ from operations by forces deployed forward in other theaters. It illustrates how domestic operational areas are theaters of operations with special requirements. Moreover, ADP 3-28 recognizes that DSCA is a joint mission that supports the national homeland security enterprise. The Department of Defense conducts DSCA under civilian control, based on U.S. law and national policy, and in cooperation with numerous civilian partners. This publication supersedes ADP 3-28, dated 26 July 2012 and ADRP 3-28, dated 14 June 2013.

ADP 3-37, Protection. ADP 3-37 provides guidance on protection and the protection warfighting function. It establishes the protection principles for commanders and staffs who are responsible for planning and executing protection in support of unified land operations. The synchronization and integration of protection tasks enable commanders to safeguard bases, secure routes, and protect forces. This publication supersedes ADP 3-37 and ADRP 3-37, dated 31 August 2012.

FIELD MANUALS

FM 1-05, Religious Support. FM 1-05 provides a cohesive understanding of the fundamentals of religious support. It is the Army's doctrinal source for religious support planning, training, and execution. This manual is a key integrating publication that links the doctrine for the Chaplain Corps with Army and joint doctrine. FM 1-05 provides operational guidance for commands and religious support personnel at all echelons and forms the foundation for all United States Army Chaplain Center and School curricula.

This publication supersedes FM 1-05, dated 5 October 2012.

FM 3-13.4, Army Support to Military Deception. FM 3-13.4 provides techniques to assist planners in planning, coordinating, executing, synchronizing, and assessing military deception. This publication guides leaders to develop deception plans that integrate into each phase and through each transition to strengthen their ability to retain initiative throughout an operation. Successfully planned deceptions enable units to act faster than the enemy can make decisions, creating positions of relative advantage.

ARMY TECHNIQUES PUBLICATIONS

ATP 1-05.02, Religious Support to Funerals and Memorials.

ATP 1-05.02 provides fundamental doctrinal guidance on the execution of funerals and memorial events. It establishes a common understanding, foundational concepts, and methods for executing religious support during funeral services and memorial events. ATP 1-05.02 provides comprehensive doctrinal guidance on religious support techniques for chaplains and religious affairs specialists. The techniques discussed serve as a guide and are not considered prescriptive. ATP 1-05.02 nests with FM 1-05. This publication supersedes ATP 1-05.02, dated 29 March 2013.

ATP 1-05.03, Religious Support and External Advisement.

ATP 1-05.03 establishes a common understanding, foundational concepts, and methods for advising commanders on the impact of religion on operations. ATP 1-05.03 highlights the external advisement capability for chaplains and religious affairs specialists operating from battalion through echelons above corps to support the full range of military operations. ATP 1-05.03 expands upon FM 1-05, Religious Support, in describing external advisement as a required capability of chaplain sections and unit ministry teams. This publication supersedes ATP 1-05.03, dated 3 May 2013.

ATP 2-01.3, Intelligence Preparation of the Battlefield. ATP 2-01.3 explains how to systematically evaluate the effects of significant characteristics of an operational environment for specific missions. It describes how the commander and staff examine mission variables to understand how these variables may affect operations. It also discusses intelligence preparation of the battlefield (IPB) as a critical component of the military decision-making process, how IPB supports decision making, and the integrating processes and continuing activities. ATP 2-01.3 also facilitates a common understanding, foundational concepts, and methods of the IPB process. This publication supersedes ATP 2-01.3/MCRP 2-3A, dated 10 November 2014.

ATP 3-01.85, Patriot Battalion Techniques. ATP 3-01.85 provides doctrinal guidance and direction for Patriot units. It focuses on the functions, capabilities, and techniques shared in common by all Patriot battalions. Core capabilities require all Patriot battalions to be highly adaptive, flexible, and responsive to contingencies, globally. It also informs readers who require an understanding of Post Deployment Build-8 software and hardware upgrades to the Patriot weapon system. This publication is complementary to Patriot technical manuals. This publication supersedes ATP 3-01.85, dated 22 March 2016.

ATP 6-02.40, Techniques for Visual Information Operations.

ATP 6-02.40 is the primary doctrine publication for visual information operations to support the Army's mission. It provides techniques associated with the components of visual information operations and establishes nonprescriptive ways or methods that combat camera Soldiers perform missions, functions, and tasks associated with visual information. It expands on the visual information foundations and tenets established in FM 6-02, Signal Support to Operations. Information in ATP 6-02.40 includes roles and responsibilities that enable and support the Army's mission at all echelons. It outlines the Defense Media Activity and its operating components. This publication supersedes ATP 6-02.40, dated 27 October 2014.

MULTI-SERVICE

ATP 3-34.84, Multi-Service Tactics, Techniques, and Procedures for Military Diving Operations. ATP 3-34.84 serves as a reference to ensure effective planning and integration for diving operations. It describes military dive mission areas, force structure, equipment, and primary missions each Service could provide in support of joint operations to assist commanders and staffs at all levels. This publication supersedes ATP 3-34.84/MCRP 3-35.9A/NTTP 3-07.7/AFTTP 3-2.7, CGTTP 3-95.17, dated 13 February 2015.

ATP 3-52.1, Multi-Service Tactics, Techniques, and Procedures for Airspace Control. ATP 3-52.1 is a single source, descriptive reference guide to facilitate multi-Service coordination, integration, and control of airspace during exercises, contingencies, and other operations where Service components must share airspace for operational use. It supports planners and warfighters by establishing tactics, techniques, and procedures for planning, coordinating, and executing airspace control in a multi-Service environment. This publication supersedes ATP 3-52.1/MCWP 3-25.13/NTTP 3-56.4/AFTTP 3-2.78, dated 9 April 2015.
